Sothern's Latest Joke.

HOAXING THE FASHIONABLES OF MURRAY HILL.

[New York Sun.]

Yesterday nearly every family in the neighborhood of Murray Hill received an invitation neatly engraved on steel, and printed on fine cards, as follows:

AMATEUR OPERA
PURSUANT
Union League Theater, Twenty sixth street,
Thursday evening, May Twenty second.
At Eight o'clock
Admit Gentleman and Lady
Tickets Four Dollars.
Full Dress. German Eleven

Across every ticket was written the one word "Complimentary" in red ink. At a quarter to 8 carriages began to arrive in front of the Union League Theatre freighted with elegantly-dressed ladies and gentlemen in full evening dress. The gentlemen alighted from the carriages and looked in astonishment at the closed doors. Then they called the janitor, and asked why the doors were not open. He opened his eyes in amazement, and said that he knew of no reason why they should be opened. At length the gentlemen in full evening dress, becoming indignant, produced the exquisitively-engraved tickets, and demanded the meaning of it all. Meanwhile the elegantly dressed ladies were shivering in their carriages, wondering what had become of their escort.

By 8 o'clock Twenty-sixth street was crowded with carriages, and in front of the Union League Theater stood a group of handsomely dressed gentlemen, all eagerly scanning the exquisitively engraved tickets, each and every one bearing the favorite legend "complimentary."

The janitor was called upon so often that he found it necessary to post a notice on the door as follows:

This theater has not been engaged for an amateur operatic performance this evening, consequently it will remain closed.

The multitude steadily increased, each new comer appealing to the throng already gathered and asking what it meant. A handsome gentleman arrived from the Union Club, and exhibited a supplementary notice which he had just received, as follows:

Owing to a misunderstanding about securing the Union League Theater this evening (for which the management is not responsible), the Amateur Opera will take place at Robinson Hall, Sixteenth street, between Union square and Fifth avenue, Southern side

By order of the Committee.

Many hurried back into their carriages and went to Robinson Hall, where they saw the following notice.

The Amateur Opera postponed in consequence of the Modoc war.

There was a vast turnout of the first families in front of the Union League Theater; the clubs were deserted, and all the elegant young gentlemen in town were on the ground. All were dumbfounded. At length Mr. C. B. Bishop, of Wallack's Theater, chanced to pass, just in time to hear a gentleman drawl out, "Egad, Sothern again; let's go home." It was astonishing to see how quick the multitude saw the joke. They looked at each other, and in silence entered their carriages. As they departed ladies were heard indulging in immoderate laughter, but their escorts were silent.

At 9 o'clock the Union League Club stationed a valet in full uniform in front of the theater, who informed each new-comer that the opera had been postponed.

At 11 o'clock an excited crowd assembled at Geo. F. Browne's chop-house, 924 Broadway, and insisted that he should lead them to Wallack's Theater in search of Mr. Sothern. That gentleman could not be found. Anxious inquiries were made for him at his hotel and at the Union Club, but he was not in.

At the clubs numerous groups discussed the hoax, and many acknowledged that they had been sold. It is estimated that upwards of 1,000 persons visited the Union League Theater last evening.

At 1 o'clock this morning a Sun reporter visited Mr. Sothern's hotel. On the door of his room a notice was posted, as follows:

Gone to bed.

Hearing the sound of a piano, the reporter rapped. The door was opened, and Mr. Sothern and Mr. Philip Lee (the husband of Miss Neilson) were seated at the piano singing:

"When we sat by the sea."

The reporter told Mr. Sothern that it was rumored in the clubs that he had perpetrated a stupendous joke on the residents of Murray Hill. Mr. Sothern looked at Mr. Lee, they both looked at the reporter in astonishment, and Mr. Sothern exclaimed, "Impossible! impossible! If there is any one thing more than another that I do abhor, it is a practical joke."

Both expressed ignorance of the joke, and manifested sincere sorrow for the persons who had been hoaxed. Both had received invitations to attend the amateur opera, but previous engagements had prevented their acceptance. They called for brandy and water straight, and the reporter retired.

The Boston Fire.

BUILDINGS DESTROYED.

The following buildings on the east side of Washington street were totally destroyed: Arlington Hall building, in the first floor of which is Crawford's Restaurant. The Globe Theater building was totally destroyed. The occupants were Winch Brothers, piano manufacturers: the Auber Piano Rooms. Second story, Edward L. Slocum, printer, Boston Directory office; Mrs. Bois, teacher of French, Bryant, Stratton & Co., Commercial College; A. Day, artist, and John Earle, who was burned out before in the former fire, in the location next to the Transcript building. His loss is $25,000, covered by insurance in the Boylston Manufacturers' Insurance Company. They removed a large part of their stock to their new store, now in progress of construction, at No. 154 Washington street. These are the principal occupants of the Globe Theater building. Chickering's pianoforte building is totally destroyed. The inside was burned some time before the front walls fell in. Hayward Place, on the south side, and nine dwelling houses were burned, valued at $4,000 each.

AMONG OTHER LOSSES,

Are the Chauncey Hall School, Freeman's Bank and the Ninth Regiment headquarters. The Boylston Market was saved, after great exertions by the firemen. The Grand Army of the Republic, E. W. Kinsley Post, in the Globe Theater building, loses heavily. The fire was stopped in its course down the east side of Essex street, toward Chauncey, and by hard work on the other side of Washington street, toward Tremont. Several acres have been burned over. Among the largest sufferers are Chickering & Sons, who lose $200,000 over their insurance. The occupants of the buildings on Chauncey street moved most of their goods before the fire had reached that neighborhood. The books and valuables of the Boylston and Freeman Banks were saved. Arthur Cheney, owner of the Globe Theater, had just leased the building for eleven weeks to the Howard Atheneum Company

Singular event this, in Peoria. Mr. J. P. Leslie kept a liquor shop, and died, as even liquor-dealers must. The widow Leslie procured for him a most expensive coffin. The Rev. Mr. Frazell, Methodist minister, carried away by his zeal, said soon after, at a temperance meeting, with questionable taste, that the coffin of Mr. Leslie was "purchased with the tears and groans of drunkards' families." This was more than the widow could bear, and so, without the least reverence for his cloth, and in the publicity of a druggist's shop, she administered to the Rev. Mr. Leslie a vigorous horse whipping. This act of termagancy isn't likely much to help the liquor interests; but what widow is always wise?

OREGON.

There is only one measle in McMinnville.

Eleven marriage licenses were issued in Marion county in May.

Salem will have a grand musical concert this evening under the direction of Prof. Prentice.

The Willamette River Transportation Company, contemplate building a wharf at Salem.

The epizootic is still spreading in Marion county, but horses properly taken care of are not badly afflicted.

The man Peter Gazier who was reported killed at Standley's mill, on the North Yamhill, was badly hurt, but is still alive.

Late Tuesday evening, Mr. B. F. Drake of the Salem Foundry was severely burned by molten iron while engaged in running some castings.

Mr. D. T. Phillips of Washington county had 20,000 brick moulded, and on the yard for drying, which were entirely destroyed by the late rains.

Sunday evening last the youngest daughter of Mr. John Williamson, of Chehalem, was thrown from a horse and received serious injuries. It is said her skull was fractured.

Dr. Hill, who has lately returned from a trip east of the mountains, where he went to solicit aid for the McMinnville College, met with very flattering success, having raised quite a sum for that institution.

We learn that the people of South Yamhill contemplate celebrating the National Anniversary by a picnic meeting with appropriate exercises. Dr. J. W. Watts has accepted an invitation to deliver the address.

The Union State Sunday School Convention will meet at the First Presbyterian Church in Salem on Tuesday, June 10th, to continue in session two days. An interesting programme of exercises has been suggested by the committee.

The Progressionist says: "The Directors of Hillsboro School District have given notice for bids to build their new school house. The Directors talk largely of having patent seats for the new house. Substantial is the word in Washington county."

The annual meeting of the M. E. Church, to be held near Sheridan, has been postponed to commence the 25th inst. This was done, we understand, so as to place the meeting time out of the way of the Christian annual meeting to be held in Polk county next week.

A correspondent at Sublimity writes to the Statesman, June 4th: "We are having pleasant showers of warm rain, and the crops and gardens are consequently looking well. The horse disease has made its appearance in our neighborhood, but it has not been fatal in any case yet."

Some mischievous chaps at Salem last Tuesday night took all the wheelbarrows, baby wagons, hand carts, carriages, wagons and other wheeled vehicles they could find in the city, and piled them up in the street. The owners were surprised, of course, but as they found all their property in good repair nobody got mad.

The Yamhill Reporter says: "One day last week a den of wolves was discovered within a very short distance of the residence of Mr. R. R. Laughlin, at North Yamhill. There were five young ones about half grown which were speedily destroyed, but the old ones were not caught. Very likely they have returned to their stronghold in the mountains, from which it is thought they were driven by a hunting party. Five young wolves could have disposed of a good many sheep when they had grown some older, and it was quite fortunate for the sheep—that they were discovered."

THE TERRITORIES.

Five steamboats were at Olympia at one time this week.

Idaho can boast of one thing—the greatest excess of males over females is found in that Territory.

The ship Canada, arrived at Port Townsend on Wednesday evening, 42 days from Eden, Peru. The Canada will load at Port Blakely for Peru.

That late "moneyed institution," the Puget Sound Banking Company, has been sold out by the Sheriff. The safe brought $300; other effects, $100.

The Minnesotian states that the N. P. Railroad iron is "going west" at the rate of ten car loads per day—the movement having commenced on the 7th of May.

The Nicaraguan ship Siren, 1,247 tons burden, Chas. H. Holm, master, was towed into Port Townsend May 29th, 55 day from Caldera, Chile. The Siren will load at Port Discovery for Valparaiso.

We understand that the Seattle Coal Company have suspended operations. This is in consequence of the enormous supply of coal in the San Francisco market, with dull sales. It is believed that an attempt is being made by a combination of capitalists to get control of all the coal mines on the coast.

For the month of May, just closed, the transactions in public lands at the Olympia office were as follows: Cash sales, 2,618.16 acres; Donations, 1,381 50 acres; declaratory statements, 5,790 98 acres, homestead entries, 2,144.10; homestead certificates, 720; warrant locations, 320. Total, 12,974 69.

The Intelligencer of last Saturday says: "On Monday last the steamer Blakely, Capt. Jackson, attempted to tow the bark Samson from Port Blakely to sea, but off Point Wilson they encountered, as Captain Jackson remarked, two gales of wind, both dead ahead, and were obliged to put back to Port Townsend. On Tuesday the attempt was renewed with better success."

AN ACROBATIC CATASTROPHE.—The Chicago Inter Ocean of May 24th says: Last Tuesday Adam Forepaugh was exhibiting his wonders at Valparaiso. While the Walhalla brothers, the celebrated trapeze performers, were doing their hair-raising "leap for life," the man who throws himself from a giddy hight into the arms of the other, who hangs by his feet to the trapeze, missed his hold and fell headlong into the audience, striking a man named Windell. The excitement was intense. The athlete was picked up unconscious and taken to the ante-tents, where, after the application of restoratives, he was pronounced dead, and the result of the accident announced to the gathered multitude. But continued efforts were successful in partially reviving him, and the premature publication of his death was contradicted. The man on whom he fell was badly injured, suffering the fracture of three ribs and multitudinous bruises. Walhalla was not expected to live at last accounts, but he was taken along with the company. His injuries are entirely internal.

Here is a frightful warning for young ladies who will sit on the kitchen stairs at parties. A New York belle, engaged in a desperate flirtation, was lately deluged by the upsetting of a whole tureen of scalding hot stewed oysters in the hands of a waiter who stumbled over her in the dark, and her neck was scalded so badly that she is probably disfigured for life.

The New York Times says that Joaquin Miller is to marry soon an English lady of large fortunes.

EASTERN DATES TO JUNE 5.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Authoritative Opinions on Capt. Jack's Case.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—It is said by the highest military authorities that the Modocs could not surrender as prisoners of war in the sense known to nations where war is declared in accordance with constituted forms. Not having been so received, they are not entitled to consideration as prisoners of war. The orders issued to the Commanding General directly after the assassination of Gen. Canby and Dr. Thomas were not to exterminate the Modocs, but it was said their conduct had been such that extermination would be justifiable; thus leaving the matter to the discretion of Gen. Davis. Therefore if he had ordered the killing of the Indians he would not have been censured by superior authority.

As to the final disposition of the Modocs, no one questions that they will ultimately be delivered to the government of Oregon for trial

Survivors of the Polaris to Arrive Soon.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The arrival of the steamer Frolic with the survivors of Captain Hall's expedition is daily expected at the Washington Navy Yard. The Secretary of the Navy has given orders that officers and men of the Polaris on board the Frolic shall not be allowed to [illegible] with anybody until they [illegible] had an interview with the Secretary. He proposes, if possible, to ascertain the truth from Captain Ty[illegible], and will subject each man to separate examination, so that no one shall know what his comrade relates. There is a [illegible] that Captain Hall was the object of foul play, and that there was a mutiny on board the Polaris.

Concerning Certain Murderers.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Official information [illegible] to the conviction that Santanta and Big Tree will probably be removed to Fort Hill to await other action of Texas authorities.

Row at Annapolis.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The Secretary of the Navy received a telegram to day from Annapolis announcing that Midshipmen Young of Mississippi, Butterfield of Kansas, Lackett of Georgia, Rowan of West Virginia, O'Keale Grisley of New York, have all been [illegible] in [illegible] upon colored Midshipman Conyers by attacking him with stones. The riotous midshipmen all failed in the examination and will be dismissed [illegible] the academy regardless of this offense. They are now in close confinement. Conyers is not seriously hurt.

It seems there had been some difficulty between Benefil's wife and Crary's sister. She went home and told her husband that Crary had struck her. Benefil armed himself with a revolver and started for the house where the difficulty occurred. Crary saw him coming, and fired at him through the window with a shotgun, blowing the top of his head off, and killing him instantly. Accounts differ very much, some calling it a cold blooded murder, others justifying Crary. The above is the most reliable account that can be obtained at present. Crary was brought here this morning and lodged in jail.

John Stuart Mill was a man of [illegible] and remarkable presence. Slightly above the middle height, with a slender body and limbs, his face and head marked him out at once to strangers as a man of high intellectual capacity. His walk was most peculiar, and might well be styled "tripping," for he stepped, as it were, on his toes alone, in the manner of an elderly French dancing-master. This, of itself, would attract the notice of those unacquainted with him, but when they looked at his face and forehead, curiosity merged into interest. His features were delicately moulded, the nose slightly aquiline, the eyes [illegible] and piercing, the mouth denoting [illegible] combined with remarkable determination, the complexion remarkably clear and of roseate hue, the hair thin, inclined to red, and tinging fast with the silver of age and [illegible] thought. But the expensive forehead, broad and lofty, told of the man even before he opened his lips, and to listen to his speeches or conversation was to hearken to Mentor himself, for he spake as he wrote—tersely, logically, clearly and vigorously.

NOT SO BAD A BARGAIN AFTER ALL.—"Two small rocky islands in the Behring Sea," says the London Globe, "will soon have paid to the United States Treasury the whole sum expended upon the purchase of Alaska. When the cession of this territory was granted to Russia, people smiled at the bargain made by the Americans. It was asserted that Yankee shrewdness had deserted Mr Seward in the matter. He knew better, and did not buy with his eyes shut. St. Paul's and St. George's islands, belonging to the Aleutian chain, have since been leased to the Alaska Commercial Company for seal fishing at a yearly rental of $55,000. A tax of nearly $3 on each fur seal skin taken and shipped from the islands is also imposed. As 100,000 skins are exported yearly now to San Francisco and New York, a fruitful source of revenue is obtained from these two barren rocks. This territorial enterprise of the United States is therefore a great success, and will probably help to develop the idea so rapidly growing in America that colonial possessions are useful from many national points of view."

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 6, 1873.

The Bulletin's Faction Bolting.

The anxiety hitherto affected by the Bulletin for the maintenance of the Republican integrity and usages, comports but illy with its attempt to uphold the action of the two men who have concluded to bolt the action, and disregard the authority of the regular Republican organization, and constituted themselves a committee to run the party in this city. These two men who have modestly elected themselves a Central Committee, have no more authority in the premises, than have any other two private individuals. They are very estimable gentlemen, and we have nothing to say against them personally; but they have embarked in an enterprise which Republicans can not countenance without giving direct encouragement to conduct that cannot but end in the disorganization of the party, if pursued. They have disregarded the established usages and customs of the party, and usurped powers that could only be vested in them by the representatives of the party in Convention assembled. That these powers have not been so conferred upon these two persons we have asserted, and we propose now to prove it by the official record of the proceedings of the Convention, from which they claim to derive their authority. Lest it should be said there was something in the record which we have withheld from publication, we here copy the whole of that record:

REPUBLICAN MUNICIPAL CONVENTION.

The City Republican Convention met at the County Court room on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. L. H. Wakefield was chosen President and O. B. Gibson, Secretary.

The order of business was called and Philip Wasserman was nominated for Mayor by acclamation.

For Police Judge, O. N. Denny was nominated, receiving 17 votes to 3 for D. C. Lewis.

E. D. Backenstos was nominated for Treasurer by acclamation.

John M. Breck having received a majority of the votes of the convention as nominee for Assessor, was declared duly nominated.

The following Ward Committees were chosen:

First Ward—L. H. Wakefield, C. Bills, W. W. Spaulding.

Second Ward—Josiah Failing, O. B. Gibson, C. W. Parrish.

Third Ward—A. G. Walling, A. J. Marshall, James Lotan.

L. H. Wakefield was appointed Chairman of the City Committee.

On motion the convention adjourned.

O. B. GIBSON, Secretary.

This is the record, and the whole record, of the proceedings of the Convention, made by Mr. O. B. Gibson, Secretary, who ought certainly to be good authority among the Bulletin people. The Convention was held on Saturday the 17th of June 1871, and this record of its proceedings was published on Monday the 19th in the OREGONIAN which was then edited by H. W. Scott, Esq., now of the Bulletin.

Upon what clause in this official record do these two persons base their assumption of the authority they are now attempting to exercise? Upon what clause do they claim that they have higher and greater powers than all the seven other members of the committee? Upon what clause does the Bulletin base its support of their unwarrantable pretensions to be above the regular committee duly appointed? There was no City Committee except that composed of the nine persons above mentioned—three from each ward. The committeemen named, including those two who have now "gone out to stand" and issued a call on their own responsibility, did not understand that there was any other city committee than that composed of the three ward committees, and have met and acted together upon that basis. The Secretary of the convention himself, one of the Bulletin faction, testifies that there was no other committee appointed, and that L. H. Wakefield was duly appointed chairman of the regular Republican city committee. And yet these two persons have allowed themselves to be led into a position of opposition to the Republican organization through a suspicion, in the minds of themselves or their advisers, that the peculiar views of party policy entertained by the Bulletin faction might not be adopted and carried out by the majority of the committee. Any Republican who countenances and encourages such downright bolting as this, may be able to justify his action to his own conscience; but it comes with the worst possible grace from such persons to denounce others for not sticking sufficiently close to party usages. A more glaring and indefensible bolt than this we do not remember to have witnessed at any time.

According to a report of the Committee of Science of the Franklin Institute, the Westinghouse air-brake, applied to a train moving forty miles per hour, will effect a stoppage in ten seconds, within 315 feet. That is rather sudden. But here comes the New Haven Palladium, which tells about stopping an express train running at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour, by this Westinghouse brake, within a car's length, to avoid running over some yearlings that were on the track. It will occur to every right-minded individual possessed of due regard for the unimpaired spinal column that, if trains on Connecticut roads are usually stopped in this way, when cattle are on the track, one would rather be a yearling than a passenger.

The Constituent Cortes of Spain assembled in Madrid, May 31st, and organized by electing Senor Orenz, a Federal Republican, its President. President Figueras formally opened the session with a speech, in which he maintained the right of the Spanish people to choose their own government. The Republic would pursue the policy of order at home, it had no concern with revolutions in European States, and was not ambitious of territorial aggrandizement. He promised to abolish slavery in Cuba, as in Porto Rico, and advocated a separation of Church and State. The present Cortes—as it name implies—has constituent powers,—that is, it has the authority to make a constitution. It has been summoned for this purpose.

One Hiram Briggs, of Hoosack Falls, New York, got into trouble with his sweetheart and resolved to commit suicide. In a fit of desperation he swallowed vermifuge enough to run the Portland Central Committee for a month. The food for worms was swallowed, but Hiram didn't become food for worms himself. He is still alive, but not kicking, owing to physical debility. If there is no other question before the house, and we can find a second, we move that Hiram be requested to turn public lecturer, and tell the public what he knows about vermifuge.

The New York Times says that an officer in the Second United States Cavalry has sent $10 towards a fund for the erection of a monument to Robert E. Lee, saying that he served under him previous to the war and to day reveres his memory as a friend, a gentleman, and a soldier.

Who Brought the Chinamen Here?

The Holladay faction are demagoguing extensively on the question of Chinese labor. Admitted that the employment of Chinese has all the bad effects on the country, and works all the hardships on the white laborers that are claimed as its consequences, whose fault is it that the Chinamen are here, and that they exclude white men and white women from employment? Their presence among us is due more to Mr. Holladay, the acknowledged head chieftain of these demagogues, than to any other man living. They have been brought here by him by the shipload, and employed by him when there were many white men entreating for employment. Immense numbers of them have been constantly at work on his railways as construction men and section hands, to the exclusion of white laborers who were begging an opportunity to work to support their families. This is a fact well known, and it will not be denied. If there is anybody who does not already know that this talk about Chinese by the Holladay faction is arrant humbuggery, let such a one take a walk down to where Mr. Holladay's land is being improved, at and near the Clarendon Hotel, and if he does not find a numerous force of "heathen Chinee" at work there, it will be because they have been taken off within the last day or two, to prevent their being seen while the demagoguing is going on. This people can not have forgotten how the whole force of Chinese employed on Mr. Holladay's railways used to be turned off just before election, and their place filled with white men, and how the latter were, in turn, replaced by Chinamen as soon as the election was over. The "heathen Chinee" that could teach these demagogues anything in the matter of "ways that are dark and tricks that are vain," has not yet been found.

There is no doubt that a large majority of the most respectable and industrious people of the city are well satisfied with the ticket nominated by the Committee of Twenty-Seven. We have heard several Republicans who were at first in favor of running a strict party ticket express themselves quite satisfied with these nominations. We are also informed that many of this class are very decided in their purpose to support the ticket nominated by the Citizens' Committee, since it has become apparent that the opposition to the movement is to be conducted in palpable disregard and violation of the long established customs of the party, and is founded on an undeniable bolt. They would like a regular ticket, but they choose a no-party ticket of good men rather than the ticket of a bolting faction. Such persons show themselves at once good citizens and true Republicans.

The San Francisco Chronicle publishes an extremely improbable story, contained in a telegram from Rome, dated May 30th, to the effect that Pius IX. has intimated his approval and support of Cardinal Bonaparte's candidature as his successor to the Papal chair, in the event of his death making it vacant. If the rumor were in the least degree reliable, we should have heard ere this the premonitory notes of the inevitable conflict between the various orders interested in the Papal succession. Pius IX. has survived the disasters of the Papacy most wonderfully. He gives no sign of yielding to death at the advanced age of four score.

This is a bad year for the railroads, also. Ex-Mayor George Opdyke has accepted the Presidency of the Midland railroad—a company which is in the condition of many other similar corporations in the United States—on its last legs, financially. An effort will be made to extricate the road from its embarrassments. A New York paper states that the employes of the road have not been paid since January, and that the company now owes them nearly a million of dollars. The earnings of the road are barely sufficient to pay its running expenses.

One of the manipulators of the disorganizers' meeting last Saturday evening—probably the person who passes under the assumed name of "Many Republicans"—proposed three cheers for a certain chief of the Holladay faction, and suiting the action to the word he rose to his feet, swung his hat high over his head with a lusty "Hip! Hip! Hip!" By this time the crowd was roaring with laughter, and the enthusiastic individual saw the point and sat down without getting beyond the first syllable.

Just a year ago Mr. Holladay's newspaper opposed the election of the regular Republican ticket in East Portland, and his employes came in from his depots and shops to vote against the party. The opposition ticket was elected by the votes he controlled. How does that tally with the present affectation of anxiety by the Holladay faction about the Republican party? Not very well, certainly. It is true, nevertheless, and it does tally well with the bolt now being urged forward by the same paper.

We notice an announcement of the death of Joseph Howe, Governor of Nova Scotia, on the 1st of June. He had been ill for some weeks, but it was not thought that his illness would prove fatal. Mr. Howe was appointed to his station in the month of January, we believe, and he is spoken of as a man of excellent ability, pure character, and spotless reputation. He died at the age of sixty-eight years.

The Bulletin's bogus committee of two bolters do not comprehend the difference between declining to participate in party proceedings, and bolting the action of the regular organization after taking part in its deliberations. Well, let them bolt to their hearts' content, but let them never again speak against others for differing from them upon questions that have not been settled by party usages.

It isn't fair, a Chicago editor wants us to revive an old Latin definition when he wickedly declares that "Ben Butler has a sinister eye on the Chief-Justiceship." This may be an optical delusion. It would be interesting to know, (which is impossible to tell) upon what his dexter eye glowers. An erratic fancy might suggest—the Treasury or an increase of this Chief Justice's salary.

The Bulletin has evidently come to the conclusion that its bluster and froth about the necessity of maintaining the party organization, has become too well understood to deceive the people any longer, and has resolved to support any set of men hereafter who will bolt the action of the party, whenever that action shall not be just in accordance with the Bulletin's ideas or purposes.

The Toledo Blade is willing to go before the world on the following excellent proposition. "Senator Pratt, of Indiana, says that he did not draw his back pay, but simply took what he had earned. If all the representatives had taken simply what they had earned, about ninety per cent. of them would have been compelled to borrow money to get them home."

A Difference that can be Seen without an "Explanation."

To go into caucus or committee and take your chances there, and then bolt the action of the caucus or committee, because you do not succeed in ruling it for your own benefit, is one thing; to remain out, from the first and decline to participate, is quite another thing, politically and morally. The former of these things is what Mr. Mitchell and his friends did in 1866, when they successfully conspired to beat Governor Gibbs, the caucus nominee of the Republican party for United States Senator; and it is what the two members of the City Republican Committee are doing, who with the advice and support of the Bulletin, are now engaged in organizing a bolt against the Republican organization in this city. This manifest disposition on the part of the Holladay-Mitchell faction, to bolt and break down the party whenever they can not rule it, is what has led a large majority of its members here to regard the professions of solicitude for the Republican party by that faction, as a mere sham and a shallow pretence. This opinion may do injustice to the faction referred to, but it is not surprising it should prevail so generally, when such outright bolting as that of this bogus City Committee of two souls is advised and upheld in its conduct by the faction.

Our Minister to Japan.

THE AMERICAN DIPLOMATIC MISSION AND PRESENT POSITION OF MINISTER DE LONG.

From the New York Herald, May 24

YOKOHAMA, April 22, 1873.—The news arrived out here by last steamer that Mr. DeLong, the present Minister of the United States, was to be removed, or rather, that he was requested to resign by April 23d—that is, to morrow. In the letter from the American State Department conveying the request Mr. De Long was told that he was removed, not because the Government was dissatisfied with his course in Japan, but the "political exigencies" required that he should make room for another. Mr. De Long is by no means an ideal of a diplomat, but he has made a good Minister to the country. He has been watchful and energetic in looking after the American interests, and at the same time has rendered great service to the Japanese Government in aiding them with his advice and counsel in their attempts at assimilation to other civilized nations. He has done considerable toward cementing and increasing the friendly feelings already existing among the Japanese toward America, and has, it is said, proved the best Minister America has had in Japan since the days of Townsend Harris. Why, then, has he been removed? or, why are "political exigencies" allowed to interfere with a man who is competent for his post?

WHAT THE JAPS SAY.

The news of the intended removal has created a feeling of uneasiness not only among the American residents, but also among the Japanese. It was rumored among the latter that the cause of Mr. DeLong's removal was that he had induced the Mikado to allow the Rev. Dr. Hepburn to present His Majesty with a copy of the Bible. Mr. DeLong asked permission for Mr. Hepburn to do this, and that permission was freely granted. Yet the State Department at Washington thought fit to disapprove of this rather innocent action of the Minister, Mr. Fish believing that such action would be distasteful to the Mikado. How far Mr. Fish's surmise was correct, may be adduced from the following letter which was sent by Soyeshima, the Japanese Prime Minister of State, to Mr. Mori, at Washington, with orders to lay the same before the United States Government:

Sir: I have received your last dispatch informing me that Mr. DeLong's action in regard to the presentation of a Bible to His Majesty the Mikado, by Dr. Hepburn, has been disapproved at Washington, and I am told that, by Mr. Fish's advice, Mr. DeLong will forward his resignation by the next California steamer. I have laid these facts before His Majesty, who apprehends that such an officer as Mr. DeLong, who has gained great experience by a long residence in our country, is wanted by the present policy to advance our relations with foreign Powers, and that the residence of such an officer in our country will bind the friendship existing between Japan and the United States more closely, and will promote the interests of both nations. His Majesty has, therefore, directed me to say that he indulges the earnest hope that upon reconsideration of this matter Mr. DeLong's resignation may not be accepted, and this officer may be allowed to remain at his post permanently if possible. You are directed to read this dispatch to His Excellency, the Secretary of State, and may leave with him a copy in case he desires it.

Yours, etc., SOYESHIMA.

To Mr. Mori Anriori, Charge d'Affaires of Japan at Washington.

ACTION OF AMERICAN MERCHANTS.

Besides this letter the American merchants of Yokohama, representing nearly every dollar of American capital that is invested in Japan, have sent a telegraphic letter to the President of the United States, in which they state that "Mr. De Long has cared for and advanced the interests of our country and civilization in Japan with great sagacity and ability; and we would respectfully ask that his recall might be postponed until after the new treaties, now shortly to be discussed, have been concluded, as we consider that the faithfulness and the patriotism which Mr. DeLong has displayed, and the knowledge of Japan and the Japanese he has acquired, will be most advantageous to such interests in the negotiation of the new treaty." Whether these letters of request will receive any consideration at Washington is doubtful; the probabilities are that "political exigencies" will overrule them.

The Chicago Times postpones writing its obituary on a certain noted individual, and gives its reasons in the following paragraph:

The statement that "the man with the iron jaw" is dead is only true so far as it means that a showman who was advertized under that title died in Massachusetts a few days ago. But the man with the iron jaw survives in great numbers. He will be heard from when the fall campaign opens from many a stump. He is a member of both Houses of Congress, and the rest which he is now enjoying will only make him the more aggressive and intolerable when the arena of his loudest and longest exploits is once more open to him. Finally, he is a man of the cloth, and may be heard from many thousands of pulpits all over the country rather oftener than a hundred times per annum. No, indeed, all flesh is grass, but the man with the iron jaw is immortal.

DEATH OF FATHER DE SMET.—Father P. J. De Smet died at St. Louis on the 23d ult., in the 73d year of his age. Few names were more widely known than his throughout the Mississippi Valley and the great West, where he had resided since the year 1823, spending the greater portion of that time as missionary among the Indians, his field of labor extending from St. Louis to San Francisco, but principally among the tribes of the Rocky Mountains. He was well known in nearly every tribe, and his great personal influence with the red men was several times of much benefit to the Government in inducing the chiefs to make treaties of peace. He has baptized and converted thousands of Indians in the course of his long and useful career. He made several visits to Europe in the interest of the tribes, for the purpose of procuring money and agricultural implements, and no man, probably, had so completely won their personal regard and confidence.

KIND WORDS FOR OAKES AMES.—A Washington correspondent writes:

There is a strong disposition here to speak kind words of Mr. Ames, now that he is in his grave at North Easton. In fact, there never was any feeling here against him except among a dozen of Mr. Colfax's friends. The vote of censure in the last House was forced by the facts against him, but nobody had ill-feeling for Mr. Ames. Judge Poland, the chairman of the committee reporting the resolutions, kept up his personal friendship with Mr. Ames to the last. I heard him say privately on one occasion. "The facts compel me to move a vote of censure on Mr. Ames, but I had no idea that he was conscious of wrong doing, and in watching his course carefully through this whole investigation, I have come to the conclusion that he is a wonderfully honest man, and he certainly kind hearted and generous."

SINGULAR METEORS.—A foreign observer reports the recent appearance of several of these bodies of unusual size, one of which he describes as exhibiting a blue disc of globular form and exceedingly brilliant. They are, it appears, entirely different in many respects from the meteors which come in showers, being much more luminous, devoid of trains, and usually traverse their respective paths with a slow and stately motion. They do not disappear with an explosion, but gradually fade out, as if the combustible matter of which they were composed had been all consumed.

Room for Expansion

All the way from Mobile comes this item which is of interest chiefly to all parties by the name of Nixon.

The citizens of Mobile, no doubt, remember a crippled mendicant by the name of Nixon, who went about the city on crutches, his leg wrapped with thick coverings, about a year or so since. Some time ago he disappeared, and now news comes that he has died in Oregon, leaving a fortune of about $500,000. This may be exaggerated, but it is certain that he died in the possession of a considerable fortune, which will go to his wife, a daughter of a man by the name of Melvin, who lives on the Eastern shore. The sum of $1,500 was sent a short time since to defray the expenses of his wife and two witnesses to Oregon, and they left on Sunday last for the purpose of obtaining the fortune. Wonders will never cease.

We haven't heard of the death of such a wealthy mendicant in our State. Nixon must have changed his name when he left Mobile. As for that "wife on the Eastern shore" it needs explanation.

The people of Virginia have a vision ex-Governor Henry A. Wise, who sat in the Executive chair when John Brown swung for his famous raid, is now a candidate for Governor on the Republican ticket. Who shall show the interpretation thereof?

CITY.

A Patent Cannon Plow.—The Scientific American contains an engraving and description of a patent cannon plow which was recently invented by French and Fanoher, Waterloo, New York. It was originally conceived and designed at the beginning of the late civil war, and was intended as a means of self protection for farmers against raiding bands of guerillas and bushwhackers. We publish it at the present time, thinking that it may be utilized, or suggest a similar or better plan for defending our western settlers against Indian depredations. The use and practicability of this invention can be readily perceived at a glance at the engraving which accompanies the description of the plow, as given in the American. Two farmers, for instance, are breaking up the prairie soil preparatory to planting their first crops. They are surprised by Indians who, probably, having just received a new supply of ammunition from Washington, are bent on testing the quality of the same by robbing and murdering such citizens of the United States as may be in the neighborhood. Naturally, the first thought of the hardy pioneers would be judicious [illegible], and such a course they would undoubtedly adopt were they not fortunately provided with the cannon plow. Instead of running away, therefore, the farmers coolly unhitch their horses, load the hollow metal plow beams with a charge of canister, scrap iron, old nails, pebbles, etc., drop a little loose powder in the vents, light their pipes and seat themselves at the rear of their implements to await the arrival of the unsuspecting "Lo's." The latter gentry, advancing with the certain prospect of two easily obtained scalps, are suddenly astonished by a metallic hailstorm, which continues until they recollect a pressing engagement in another vicinity, and find it to their interest and physical welfare to defer their [illegible] operations to a more convenient opportunity. All our farmers in Eastern Oregon and along the borders ought to provide themselves with these cannon plows. They would be as valuable as a masked battery or a nest of torpedoes.

Public Examination.—The Public Examination and Closing Exercises of the Bishop Scott [illegible] and Divinity School, will be held on the 10th and 11th inst. The exercises will take place as follows:

Tuesday A. M.—Geography, Jr.; Geometry, Sr.; Quill [illegible] Reader, Sr., 9-10½; Harkness' First Latin, Sr.; Harkness' Second Latin, Sr., Tacitus, Sr., 10½-12.

Tuesday Afternoon—English Grammar, Prim., [illegible], Sr.; Livy, Sr., 1-2; French, Jr. and Sr., [illegible], Sr.; Introduction to English Literature, Sr., 2-3.

Wednesday A. M.—Arithmetic, Prim., Al[illegible], Sr.; Natural History, Sr.; 9-10½, Geo[illegible], Prim.; Ancient History, Sr., British History, Sr., 10½-11½; Instrumental Music and Drawing, 11½-12.

Wednesday Afternoon—Arithmetic, Jr.; Sallust, Sr.; Homer, Sr., 1-2.

The [illegible] will be interspersed with Declamations and essays and followed by an Address by the Rev. Mr. Babcock.

The public [illegible] ally are invited to attend.

Willamette University—The Commencement Week.—Mr. Thos. H. Crawford, Secretary of the Willamette University, publishes the following programme for Commencement Week:

S[illegible], June 22d, 9 A. M., College Lovefeast; 10 A. M., Annual Sermon, by Dr. Dickson of Portland.

Monday, June 23d, 8 P. M., Address to the Literary Societies, by Hon. J. F. Caples of Portland.

Tuesday, June 24th, 2 P. M., Prize Declamations; 8 P. M., Anniversary of the Hesperian Society.

Wednesday, June 25th, 8 P. M., Public Exercises of the Alumni.

Thursday, June 26th, 2 P. M., Exercises of the Graduating Class; 8 P. M., Annual Address, by Rev. Stephen Bowers, A. M., of Salem.

Feast of Corpus Christi.—Next Thursday, says the Sentinel, the 12th of June, the Catholic Church celebrates the great and solemn feast of Corpus Christi. The feast was established to commemorate the institution of our adorable sacrifice and sacrament, in which Jesus Christ has [illegible] to perpetuate in the Church his oblation on Calvary, and to nourish our souls with His [illegible] body and blood. This being a holy day of obligation, Masses will be said in the [illegible] Church at six, eight and ten o'clock, the last being solemn High Mass.

Land Slide.—A large land slide occurred W[illegible]day evening on the west side road a short [illegible] north of the summit. Great masses of [illegible], loosened by the rain in one of the cuts, [illegible] away and came down on the track. A [illegible] of workmen were set to work at once [illegible] the dirt away from the track. Finding that the earth could not be cleared from the track in [illegible] for the train, a new track was temporarily laid over the slide, and the train bound for the city [illegible] along without detention.

Excursion to the Cascades.—The scholars and friends of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary, under the direction of Prof. Royal, have engaged the steamer Oneonta for a trip to the Cascades on to morrow (Saturday), leaving the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf at 8 A. M. promptly. Everybody will take a lunch basket, and on arrival at the Cascades an hour will be spent in [illegible] and rambling, when the boat will start for Portland. Fare for the round trip one dollar.

Not Disposed of.—We are requested by the Clerk of the Circuit Court to state that equity suit No. 41, entitled Emma F. Standter vs Adam [illegible]ter, was not settled at the last term of that Court. This suit still remains on the calendar of the Court, and will continue to remain thereon until it is judicially disposed of, and the costs of such disposition paid to the proper officer of the Court by the moving party in interest.

Complained Of.—A correspondent desires to know in what manner the "intolerable nuisance" [illegible] by cows with bells attached, roaming at [illegible] all hours of the night, can be abated. [illegible] as the cows can't be prevailed upon to retire to their grassy couches earlier, or to keep [illegible] hours, the best method to abate the [illegible] would be to take off the bells or else [illegible] in the ears.

Shipment of Treasure.—The following is the [illegible] of treasure for the last three months, March, April and May:

	Currency.	Gold Coin.	Bullion.	Silver Coin.
March,	$46,442 00	$141,340 00	$24,871 60	$6,363 50

In pursuance of previous notice, a number of brethren and friends met at the campground in Powell's valley, on Monday, the second day of June, and did noble service in clearing and repairing the grounds. OREGON CITY ITEMS.

Under date of 5th inst. our regular correspondent at Oregon City sends the following:

Council held its regular meeting on Monday evening. The three gentlemen teachers of the City Seminary—Messrs Marrum, Moreland and Nicholson—were elected for the ensuing school year.

The street leading from the lower part of the city to the bluff is being improved. It formerly commenced at the head of Eighth street and reached the top of the bluff at the basin. Now, it commences at the head of Ninth street—one street further back—and terminates same place as before. The contractor is Mr. D. S. Moore, amount of contract, $1,200, coin. When completed, it will be a great improvement to the city. The former street was at best unsafe.

The roof of the factory is being tinned now. The work is rapidly progressing.

Prof. W. S. McFadon, recently from Pennsylvania, will give an entertainment in elocution this evening. Prof. McFaden has first-class testimonials of his former entertainments, and those who attend can consequently anticipate a treat.

Father Hyacinthe at Geneva.—Until he gets a church of his own Father Hyacinthe is expounding his reformed Catholic doctrine at Geneva, with a happy appropriateness, in Calvin's library. An altar has been placed in one of the square windows, which has been darkened to a dim religious twilight. Over the altar is an ancient Christ, in sculptured wood, and a chalk head of the Christ in agony completes the decorations of the great square hall, which is plain even to ugliness. Rows of empty book shelves run around the whitewashed walls; the ceiling is traversed by enormous beams of oak, and supported down the center of the hall by a couple of massive oaken columns, which still display the remains of paint and gilding. Except a couple of branches for candles, and a few plants which form the background of the altar, of decoration there is none. There is no tinsel, no tawdry painting, no lace, no cotton velvet. Father Hyacinthe himself is a man below the middle height. But his gestures are noble and dignified, and there is something indescribably touching in his voice. The service, writes an attendant on a recent occasion, was simple and short. It began with the Lord's prayer, followed by the creed, the gospel of the day, and a sermon or meditation on peace. There were at a rough guess about a thousand people assembled in the library, most of whom appeared to be of the lower classes. The people did not join in any way in the service; no one knelt, because there was not room to do so, and during the prayers the congregation stood up. All through the service not a sound was heard but the exquisitely modulated and sympathetic voice of Father Hyacinthe. One or two women were borne out fainting, and most of the people were in tears when the preacher, in a sort of official promulgation of the articles of his faith and that of the church he is striving to establish, gave his reasons for praying for the dead. The sanctity of the household, of which the husband only should be priest and king, was a theme in his discourse to which he constantly and impressively recurred. The tenets of the Reformed Catholic Church of Geneva appear identical with those of the more moderate portion of the Church of England. The service is entirely conducted in the vernacular, and the sermon is apparently the great feature of importance.

Monsignor Mermillod, the archbishop recently expelled from Switzerland, has settled at Ferney, France, in the former residence of Mme Denis, the celebrated niece of Voltaire. He is said to have written to the Pope this comment on his fate and present places of labor. "Your Holiness sent me to Calvin; Calvin sent me to Voltaire; I hope to inter them both."

The man of enterprise creates, the weak imitator tries to copy him. Does any sensible man suppose that the legions of "Buchus," so called, that infest the drug stores, possess the real merit of Dr. Helmbold's Genuine Extract? Any sufferer from Kidney Complaint, Dropsy, Diabetes, or other urinary diseases, in male or female, will detect the difference at once by the results. Helmbold's cures, the others fail. The genuine bears Dr. Helmbold's signature. John F. Henry, New York, Sole Agent.

It is no wonder that invalids lose faith in all specifics when so many worthless medicines are advertised for the cure of various diseases, but which, when tried, are "found wanting." We have yet to learn, however, of the first failure of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry to cure coughs, colds and pulmonary disease.

It is often remarked by strangers visiting our State that we show a larger proportion of good horses than any other State in the Union. This, we tell them, is owing to two principal reasons. In the first place, we breed the very best stock, and in the second place, our people use Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, which in our judgment are of incalculable advantage.

AMUSEMENTS

Favored by fair weather, the children connected with the First Presbyterian Church of this city propose to give their picnic to-morrow through the Locks, on the steamer Annie Stewart.

Portland Encampment No. 1, Independent Champions of the Red Cross, will give a strawberry and ice cream festival this evening at Philharmonic. The hall is tastily decorated, and Bray's Orchestra has been engaged for the evening. At the close of the festival the floor will be cleared and all who are desirous of joining in the "mazy dance" can have the opportunity.

Both socially and in a financial point of view, the picnic and excursion given yesterday at Harmony Grove, under the auspices of the Portland Hibernian Society, was the grandest affair which has yet been given during the present season. At least one thousand excursionists were on board the elegant steamer Oneonta, which left the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf at 8:30 A. M., bound for the picnic grounds. A large and commodious barge was brought alongside the steamer, and towed to and from the grounds. This afforded ample room for dancers. From the time the boat left the wharf bound for the mouth of the Wallamet, until the picnic grounds were reached, dancing was commenced and never ceased for a moment—the large space being densely thronged all the time. Music, of the best character, furnished the melody to which the feet of the dancers kept time, and lent spirit and animation to the scene. On arriving at the grounds, the real pleasures of the day were inaugurated. Dancing, lunching and rambling in the pleasant shady woods occupied the time and attention of all, according to his or her taste. In the afternoon, the games advertised to come off began. For several hours the crowds were afforded infinite diversion and merriment by the various games of foot ball, wheel barrow, hurdle, sack and foot races, climbing a greased pole, ladies' target practice and other equally amusing and innocent sports. The most laughable, as well as the most attractive feature of the day, was the foot race which came off among the fat men, of which three persons entered as competitors for the prize. This race, as a matter of course, attracted much attention and afforded more sport than any other portion of the day's exercises. After several hours spent in the most hilarious sports, the excursionists embarked on the steamer and turned their faces homeward. Two hours and a half steaming brought the Oneonta back to her wharf, where her living cargo of humanity was speedily transferred to terra firma. We have heard no dissatisfaction expressed by any one as to the results of the excursion, or as to the manner in which the affair was conducted, but all unite in speaking in the highest terms of the conduct of those to whom the management of the excursion was entrusted. Good order and the strictest decorum were observed by the crowd. No accident occurred nor anything of an unpleasant nature transpired which could mar the enjoyment of the participants. The Society should feel gratified at the signal success attending their annual excursion.

"I say, Tom, that is a nobby suit you have on." "I declare I've been trying to get something that will fit me to a dot, and that I can depend on to wear well." "Where did you buy them?" "I was passing along First street, last week, and as I turned the corner of Washington street I noticed some fine cloths and furnishing goods. The attraction was so great that I stepped inside, and after selecting the materials, I ordered what may be termed an elegant fitting suit. The place is Fishel & Roberts."

The public mind has been somewhat agitated with the Modoc war, an occasional marine or railway disaster, and the dull times, and the prospect of buying clothing at a figure not large enough to clean a man to the bedrock. The place has been found where you can buy men and boy's clothing, or gentlemen's furnishing goods, at the very lowest prices. It is at Beck & Waldman's, corner of Front and Washington street, where a full assortment of men and boys' clothing, in the latest styles, can be selected from.

TO THE TAX-PAYERS OF THE CITY OF PORTLAND.

The Portland Water Company take this method of defining their position on the purchase of their works by the city of Portland.

On the 25th day of April, 1872, this company received a communication from Messrs. W. S. Ladd, J. B. Congle, C. H. Lewis and S. G. Reed, sub committee on water supply, appointed by the Mayor, asking the question:

"Will you dispose of your works to the city of Portland? and if so, you will state price, terms, etc."

Our answer was, we would sell; and the price, three hundred thousand dollars, to be paid as specified.

Again, the Committee on Fire and Water called on us at our office, saying they came in accordance with a resolution passed by the Common Council, on the 5th of February, to confer with us as to the purchase of our works by the city, to ascertain the price, and report to the Council at their earliest convenience. This company named the same price, viz. $300,000, that had been named to the former committee, two hundred and forty thousand dollars coin, and the city to assume the payment of sixty thousand dollars currency bonds, bearing seven per cent. interest, payable in July, 1880.

The committee made their report to the Common Council on the evening of February 18, 1873, from which report we copy the latter portion, viz:

We have been permitted to examine the income of the Water Company for the years 1870, 1871 and 1872, from rents of water, and from them we learn that the receipts would pay the interest on the bonds, the cost of operating the works, and have a considerable surplus, while the rents could be lowered one fourth the present rates, and still pay rents sufficient to pay interest and cost of operating, thus giving to our citizens cheaper water, which is a matter greatly to be desired.

The increase of population in the city will increase the rents, and cheaper rates will increase the takers, without corresponding increase in the cost of operating; and in the no distant future your Committee believe that the rates can be reduced to one half the present rates, and still leave a sufficient revenue to pay interest on the bonds and cost of operating, while a small sum can be annually accumulating to form a sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds.

Under the provisions of our charter nothing can be done in the way of incurring an indebtedness sufficient to purchase or build Water Works by the city until the proposition is submitted to the people at a general election, and by them approved.

Your Committee therefore recommend that the proposition of the Portland Water Company for the sale of their Works, rights, &c., &c., be submitted to the people at the coming June election, as provided by charter, for their approval or rejection.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
(Signed) J. B. CONGLE,
J. C. MORELAND,
Committee on Fire and Water.

The Portland Water Company would respectfully state to the tax payers the fact, that they have not urged the city to purchase our works. We have simply answered in good faith communications from committees appointed by the Mayor and Common Council of this city, as we supposed in good faith on the part of the city, and as a continuance of our willingness to give to the tax payers and the public any information they may desire, in order that they may vote intelligently at the coming June election for or against the purchase of our works by the city, we submit the following abstract from our books for two years, with the probable rates for one year:

The city can run the works, reduce the rates 25 per cent., and leave a balance in favor of the city of six thousand, five hundred and twenty dollars; or, in other words, consumers that now pay $2 per month, can be supplied for $1 50 per month, and others in proportion; and still the city will receive a revenue without taxing the people for a water supply.

Any further information desired in relation to the Company's works will be freely given on application at their office.

COLEMANS EUCALYPTUS

Dr. J. S. Coleman's Compound Extract of Eucalyptus is a preparation combining all the valuable medicinal qualities of the Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for its medicinal utility, having become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY CANAL and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings, and cures them by its alterative, healing and balsamic properties more effectually than any other known remedy.

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised results, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 416 Kearney street, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful, yet harmless febrifuge, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and arsenical remedies for those diseases are entirely avoided.

FOR PHYSICIANS, Coleman's Fluid Extract of Eucalyptus in 1 lb bottles.

Beware of imitations, and take none but COLEMAN'S. For sale everywhere, and by Hodge, Calef & Co., Wholesale Druggists, Portland, Sole Agents for Oregon.

The East India Company.

The London correspondent of the Boston Post writes of the proposition to dissolve the East India Company, now before Parliament:

The last scene in the most splendid commercial drama which the world ever saw is about to take place at Westminster Palace. A bill has been introduced into the House of Commons by Mr. Grant Duff and Mr. Ayrton, finally winding up the affairs of the great East India Company, and transferring its properties as well as its unexampled powers to the British Crown. All those who go down to the sea in ships, the merchants of every clime and engaged in every department of the world's trade, must witness the extinction of this corporation with an interest not unconnected with a feeling of regret. For the East India Company, in its something more than a century of existence, showed above all to what heights of wealth and absolute authority it was possible for commercial spirit and enterprise to attain. No such a history could ever have been imagined by the most enthusiastic merchants of ancient or modern times, until it was displayed to the gaze of an astonished world. The Company became in time a sovereign more potent and magnificent than Cæsar or Alexander, it ruled an empire embracing not only many millions of subjects, but treasures which are yet so far from being exhausted, that India is still the most precious and valued dependency of the British Crown. Commercial energy, and not conquest, lay at the foundation of this superstructure. It was the sturdy British spirit of barter and trade, which acquired the first footholds on the banks of the Ganges and the Hooghly; conquest was to come after to supplement and complete the priceless acquisition. A few gentlemen met, the other day, in one of the narrow streets in London city, who represent the last remains of the Directors of the East India Company, to settle the final accounts and make the last preparations for turning over the effects to the Government. They are to receive a hundred per cent. bonus on their stock, and their meeting was so quiet and unnoticed a one that, but for a paragraph in the papers, nobody would have known how really momentous an event was occurring in the shades of Pancras lane. One cannot help thinking what a hubbub would have been created twenty years ago, if it had been announced that the East India Company, the very pride and glory of British commerce was about to dissolve into thin air! But the dissolution, as it is, has been gradual, and now the end comes much as a foregone conclusion.

ITS CAREER.

Let me recall some of the chief incidents of this Company's rise and progress; for never was there history more glowing with romance and military achievement, with dazzling stories of fabulous wealth, and illustrations of the absolutism and despotic sway which it is possible for men to attain. The British were not the first to discover the value of the East India trade. Not long after Columbus discovered America, and gave the key of our continent to his Spanish patrons, Vasco da Gama for the first time doubled the Cape of Good Hope, came upon Malabar, and found India. The shrewd Portuguese took immediate advantage of the discovery of their countryman, and at the beginning of the sixteenth century were in full trade with the Orient. Somewhat later, with the decline of the Portuguese Company, arose that of the Dutch, which enriched itself prodigiously, but soon found itself in sharp competition with later arrivals, in the shape of French and English ships; and the Dutch, as you know, still hold rich possessions in the Oriental seas. The next company to gain the ascendency in India was the French, formed in 1740, and finally displaced by the English company. The rise of the latter from small beginnings was a wonderful historical fact; it was born in obscurity and it dies in neglect. In the year 1600, or thereabouts, a few merchants of the city, mainly clothiers and ironmongers, attracted by the profits arising from the trade which the English had for some time carried on with the East Indies, resolved to form a company on a modest scale, principally with a view to importing tea. They managed, by hook or crook, to get together about $150,000 as a starting capital. Meanwhile a simple event had occurred, which was destined to flood this unpretending company with wealth. An enterprising English surgeon, finding himself in the Great Mogul's capital, was sent for to prescribe for the Great Mogul's daughter; and happily cured her. The Great Mogul's gratitude knew no bounds; and the doctor, who was connected with the new company, procured for them permission to establish factories on the Hooghly. It is interesting to read that one of the first orders which they gave to their agent in India was as follows: to send "100 lbs weight of the best tey that he could gett to send home for sample." From this they went on until they got to purchasing sites and tracts, and building brick houses at Calcutta. They began negotiations and received concessions from the native princes, built Fort William, on the Hooghly, and by another lucky prescription, administered to a later Great Mogul by one Dr. Hamilton, secured no less than thirty-eight towns, with a complete right of free trade throughout the great and rich province of Bengal. In 1700, as stated by a London paper, the salary of the President of the Company was yet only a matter of £300, of the members of the Council £40 each, and of the writers £5; but they had also "commons, Madiera wine, and privilege of private trade." The latter privilege, however, made everybody who had any place in the Company speedily rich. In fact the Company found itself revelling in a perfect inexhaustible mine of wealth. Province after province was annexed, concession after concession acquired, ships added to the fleet, until in 1680, the Company had thirty-five merchantmen, and exported £70,000 worth of goods from England each year. They found themselves loaning millions to the home exchequer, and getting complete possession of Calcutta and thirty-seven towns round about it. The great political as well as commercial career of the Company may be said to have begun in 1757 or thereabouts, when they deposed the Nabob of Bengal. Clive had arrived at Madras twelve or thirteen years before, as a servant of the Company, and now began the series of magnificent conquests, depositions and spoilations of native princes, which gradually absorbed the richest Indian provinces under English control. One by one they fell—the Nabob of the Carnatic, the Nizam of the Deccan, and the supreme Great Mogul himself. I scarcely need even recall Clive's career of glory, cruelty and aggrandizement, or the despotic and thievish, though effective, rule of Warren Hastings; both are described, as no one else could pretend to describe them, in the pages of Macaulay. Suffice it to say, that when Hastings left the Governor-Generalship to Cornwallis India was almost wholly under English dominion. Cornwallis—our Cornwallis, who surrendered at Yorktown—subjugated Tippoo Sahib in 1792, and not only forced him to give up half his kingdom, but £3,500,000 in gold beside; and seven years later Tippoo was slain and Seringapatam taken. Twelve years before, Mr. Pitt had instituted the Board of Control, a new department of home administration intended to supervise the operations of the Company. The wealth and the power, and consequently the independence and corruption of the corporation, had increased to such an extent, that though the Government renewed its charter from time to time, it was found at last necessary to curtail it, and transfer the real power to the Crown. This was done about forty years ago, when the property of the Company was vested in the Crown, but still held by the Company in trust, as its managers. Its stock had reached, in 1793, the sum of £6,000,000. But these facts really give but a feeble idea of the splendor and wealth of the East India Company during the century between the battle of Plassy in 1757, and the great mutiny in 1857. The acquisition of territory, the reduction of native grandees, who could trace their lineage back two thousand years, to the condition of pensioned vassals, the subjection of the bejeweled Begums, the wars carried on against frightful odds and hordes of half-savage Hindoos and Mussulmans in the remote interior, the building of Calcutta to what it is to-day, one of the noblest cities in the world, the appointment of Governors-General compared with whose powers those of the Grand Turk and the Shah are democratic, the gorgeous luxury in which their officials lived, the noble docks and vast warehouses they erected, the conversion, in short, of Indian villages into Oriental Londons, and of Indian inlets into harbors crowded with British ships, mark a career which it would be absurd to compare with the achievements of the greatest commercial companies of Phœnicia, Etruria, Venice or Genoa. Their merchant ships fought and whipped French men-of-war; a man who got an appointment in their service was a predestined millionaire. They carried to England hundreds of cargoes of silk, tea, spices, cashmeres, diamonds, yearly, indeed, what would England be to-day, commercially, had the East India Company not existed? Their servants were almost all illustrious men. Few greater soldiers than Clive appear in English annals, few greater Governors of men than Warren Hastings, Wellesley, Dalhousie and Mayo are to be found in the history of this country. The power and ostentation of the Governor-General of India was always immeasurably greater than that of the sovereign who sent him thither. Now, however, the Company passes away, almost without a funeral oration, two prosaic M. P.'s are its undertakers. The whole of its authority and property at last centres in the hands of Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, and Hindostan for the future will be wholly governed from Whitehall. The great drama is played to the end, and on the first day of June, 1874, the East India Company will disappear from the sight and ken of men forever. Never was there a more insignificant ending to so magnificent a romance.

BOW BELLS.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

THURSDAY EVENING, June 5, 1873.

Gold in New York to-day, 118.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 84½ buying, 8[illegible]½ selling.

Gold bars are quotable at 800 fine.

Wheat in Liverpool—Average California, 12s 2d@12s 4d; club, 12s 6d.

Notwithstanding we hear occasional murmurs of a closeness in financial circles, the general tone of the money market is easier. Accommodations to customers are offered at the city banks at 1 per cent per month, but outside rates are higher, say 1¼@1½. The movement during the week under review, have been quite large, in the aggregate. The deposits will average above past weeks, as we are informed, and the supply of loanable funds has increased. While the general business of the Spring has not come up to the expectation, we are glad to record the fact that such has been the management of our local dealers, that they generally occupy better financial ground than they did one year ago, with but few exceptions. Their stocks were not unusually large, and they have used such care in their dealings, that they have fewer outstanding uncollectable bills. Interior dealers have remitted with more promptitude than was anticipated a few weeks ago, and we believe we are safe in saying that the outlook for the Fall trade is fair, and though some probabilities that point to some scarcity of money in our country, and especially in Oregon, those who conduct commercial affairs will, at least find no more, if as much, difficulty in that direction as was met last year.

Imports and Exports.

There is much truth in the saying, that any people whose imports exceed their exports will become poor, though something depends on the character of the commodities considered. When we consider the movement of articles which may be grown or manufactured, the rule is always applicable. Thus, if we take the statistics of the Custom Houses on the Pacific coast for the last fiscal year, we find that the people of the coast paid, as duties on imports, about the sum of $8,720,000. The population of the States and Territories known as the Pacific coast, was 872,699. The population of the United States was 38,558,180. The aggregate of duties paid was $216,977,236 00. It follows that the people of this coast use double the quantity of imported goods than do the people of the other States. They pay $10 25 per head duties, while the people of the rest of the Union pay $5 61 per head. It is probably not the case that the people here consume double the amount of merchandise altogether, but, allowing that they consume as much, then the fact remains, that they use more imported and less domestic merchandise than the people of other sections; and this grows out of the circumstance that nine-tenths of all the products of this State are sold to foreign countries. If we sell wheat to England, we must get returns, and they come in the shape of goods. The Eastern States buy comparatively little of us. Our bullion finds a market mostly in London; our wheat in Liverpool; our flour, and other commodities, in China and the countries of the Pacific.

The East sends agricultural produce here and gets gold for it, but she sends no money of any kind to buy merchandise. Butter, cheese, eggs, pork, lard, meats, etc., can pay freights and sell better here than there, and they come and carry off the gold. Even this land of Fruit sends away but little more than arrives, because of the want of cheap labor to gather it. We are told that farmers will not immigrate because they will lose the difference in money. But it appears they send the products of their farms and get more money here than there for them, or they would not send them.

Taking the above facts and figures, it ought not to surprise any one that we realize a stringent state of financial matters on this coast, but should rather find it matter of consolation, that it is not even worse, at times, than it ever has been.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The receipts are well kept up, aggregating quite large for the week, so far. Many producers are closing out their surplus under the cheap rates ruling for inland transportation, this affording them a better profit for their grain than they enjoyed under the old regime, when freights were nearly or quite twice as high as now, though the price of grain was 20 per cent higher than at present. We hear of several thousand bushels changing hands this week, at the equivalent of $1 55 per cental delivered in sacks. Reports from the interior of the State, confirm previous accounts of good crops the approaching harvest. Inquiry here, as to the probable amount of tonnage now under engagement to load wheat during the next harvest year, elicits the information that at present we can count on about the same number of vessels as came the last year, but they will probably be more evenly distributed through the season. We will endeavor to keep our readers posted as to the movements likely to effect prices.

FLOUR—Business in this commodity is reported somewhat dull by jobbing houses and agents. The receipts of the week have been small, comparatively, owing to the fact that several mills in the State are closed for the purpose of renovating preparatory to beginning operations on next year's crop. We quote extra of standard brands at $5 per bbl; good country brands $4 50@4 75; fine $4; superfine $3 75.

OATS—The epizooty having become general among the horses throughout this section, the demand for seeding purposes having subsided, and low prices prevailing in San Francisco, our market has been gradually receding for the past week, and is now quotable at 50 cents per bushel, sacks included.

FEED—The demand, which is quite active, is well supplied, as dealers here took warning by the sudden advance in California when the horse disease broke out there, and laid in quite large stocks. These stocks, however, have not moved off as rapidly or at such figures as were expected, and holders have found that the epizooty in California had a greater effect on the market here than it has now that it is in our midst. We quote bran at $20 per ton; chops, middlings, etc., $28@30.

HAY—There are occasional lots still coming to hand which are quite adequate to all demand, which for the present is dull. For good baled timothy jobbers pay $15 per ton and retail at $18@20. Loose timothy cannot be placed at over $13a14 per ton.

BARLEY—We note the arrival of a few small lots for which dealers here pay $1 50 per cental. The local demand is very fair, and no trouble is found in selling good brewing at the current rates.

POTATOES—There is an abundance of new California in the market selling at 3a3½ cents per pound. Last year's are scarcer than last week, and best varieties command better figures, being quotable at 30a35 cents per bushel.

ONIONS—Shipments are received from California, there being none of last year's crop of Oregon raised in the market.

BACON—We quote country cured hams at 14a15 cents per lb; sides, 11a12½ cents; shoulders, 8a9 cents. The trade of the week has been rather more active, though the supply in this market is still in excess of the demand.

LARD—A choice quality in tins is worth 12½ cents per lb, in bulk, 10. The call is good.

BUTTER—The quality of late receipts is improved, and we flatter ourselves that the commercial editors of our city papers have said so much on the bad quality of Oregon butter that it has had some effect. Best roll butter is quotable at 20 cents per pound. Packed in boxes, barrels and kegs, however, will not command so much.

EGGS—The supply is much in excess of the demand, and owing to the fact that no shipments can be made at present rates in San Francisco, dealers here are not free buyers at current rates, which is not more than 15c ₧ dozen.

CHIKENS—The market is well supplied both with old and spring, the former quotable at $5 50 ₧ dozen—the latter at $2 50.

HIDES—No important change is noted, buyers freely offering 15@16c ₧ lb for dry, 7c for salted, 6@6½ for green; culls, 12½c ₧ lb.

WOOL—There is no change of note since our last review. Latest advices from the East, though denoting a better feeling, have not affected our home market. Dealers here buy the small lots offered at 25c, but much cannot be secured at that figure at present.

Markets.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Flour—The Panama steamer took about 1,200 bbls, part for New York.

Wheat—1,490 sks choice club, $1 85, cargo of 1,400 tons shipping, alongside, $1 81½; exporters offer only $1 80.

Barley—Consignment of 60 tons new has arrived—first of the season; sales 400 sks light bay, $1 35½, 1,000 sks $1 45; 1,000 sks bay, for Reno, $1 22½; 500 sks good coast, $1 20.

Oats—Quiet at $1 80@2; sales 400 sks Oregon for Honolulu, and 600 sks for Virginia, current rates.

Hay—Small cargo of wheat and oat, $16 50, range for new, $11@18; two small cargoes wheat and wild oat, $16 50@17, 30 tons common, $12 50, 12 tons do, $11 50.

Corn—300 sks yellow, $1 30.

BITTERS

IS PURELY A VEGETABLE PREPARATION, composed simply of well known ROOTS, HERBS, and FRUITS, combined with other properties, which in their nature are Cathartic, Aperient, Nutritious, Diuretic, Alterative and Anti-Bilious. The whole is preserved in a sufficient quantity of spirit from the SUGAR CANE to keep them in any climate, which makes the one of the most desirable Tonics and Cathartics in the world. They are intended strictly as a only to be used as a medicine, and always according to directions.

They are the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. They act upon a diseased liver, and stimulate to such a degree, that a healthy action is at once brought about. As a remedy to which Women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. As a Spring and Summer Tonic, they have no equal. They are a mild and gentle Purgative as well as Tonic. They purify the Blood. They are a splendid Appetizer. They make the weak strong. They purify and invigorate. They cure Dyspepsia, Constipation, and Headache. They act as a specific in all species of disorders which undermine the bodily strength and break down the animal spirits.

LYON'S KATHAIRON

Only 50 Cents per Bottle.

It promotes the GROWTH, PRESERVES the COLOR, and increases the Vigor and BEAUTY of the HAIR.

OVER THIRTY YEARS AGO LYON'S KATHAIRON FOR THE HAIR was first placed in the market by Prof. E. Thomas Lyon, a graduate of Princeton College. The name is derived from the Greek "Kathro," signifying to cleanse, purify, rejuvenate, or restore. The favor it has received, and the popularity it has obtained, is unprecedented and incredible. It increases the GROWTH and BEAUTY of the HAIR. It is a delightful dressing. It eradicates dandruff. It prevents the Hair from turning gray. It keeps the head cool, and gives the hair a rich, soft, glossy appearance. It is the SAME in QUANTITY and QUALITY as it was over a QUARTER of a CENTURY AGO, and is sold by all Druggists and Country Stores at only 50 Cents per Bottle.

"Woman's Glory is Her Hair."

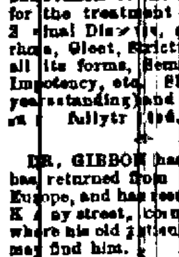
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary.



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs [illegible] fullytr [illegible]

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life destroying maladies, see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians in Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Sexual Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of [illegible], [illegible] about the loins, [illegible] of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, [illegible] pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco [illegible]

[illegible]ND [illegible]

Gr[illegible] who are [illegible] any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the [illegible] upon them nor delay to obtain [illegible]

DOCTOR GIBBON is [illegible], and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding him [illegible] to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Patients at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicine promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in a registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus diploma certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat disease that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian. jy6d4pt
